

FLEX 2016-2017

Latvia

More Information

<http://discoverflex.org/>

Contact us

latvia@americancouncils.eu

The Embassy of the United States in Latvia and American Councils for International Education are pleased to invite students to participate in the FLEX program. This exchange program is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State and seeks to bring bright and talented Latvian high school students to live with an American host family and study in an American high school for the 2016-17 academic year. The FLEX program, which is now in its 24th year, is excited welcome Latvia to the FLEX program. Participation is free of charge.

Requirements for participants:

The competition is open to all students who meet the following eligibility criteria:

- have Latvian citizenship;
- are born between 15th July 1999 and 15th July 2001;
- are currently enrolled in grade 9-10;
- study English in secondary school;
- meet the requirements for receiving a U.S. visa and have not spent more than 3 months of the last five years in the U.S.

Apply online before October 16

<https://ais.americancouncils.org/flex>

We also welcome all high school students with disabilities to apply for the program. Please contact us for additional information if you know students with disabilities who would like to participate in the program.